CONFERENCE REPORT

[To accompany H.R. 1724]

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the House to the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 1724) to provide for the termination of the application of title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 to Czechoslovakia and Hungary, having met, after full and free conference, have agreed to recommend and do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the Senate recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the House to the amendment of the Senate and agree to the same with an amendment as follows:

In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the House amendment insert the following:

SEC. 4. REPEAL OF THE PROHIBITION ON THE IMPORTATION OF SOVIET GOLD COINS.

TITLE I—EXTENSION OF NONDISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT TO ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA

SEC. 101. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) The Government of the United States extended full diplomatic recognition to Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania in 1922.

(2) The Government of the United States entered into agreements extending most-favored-nation treatment with the Government of Estonia on August 1, 1925, the Government of Latvia on April 30, 1926, and the Government of Lithuania on July 10, 1926.

(3) The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics incorporated Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania involuntarily into the Union as a result of a secret protocol to a German-Soviet agreement in 1939 which assigned those three states to the Soviet sphere of influence; and the Government of the United States has at no time recognized the forcible incorporation of those states into the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(4) The Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951 required the President to suspend, withdraw, or prevent the application of trade benefits, including most-favored-nation treatment, to countries under the domination or control of the world Communist movement.

(5) In 1951, responsible representatives of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania stated that they did not object to the imposition of "such controls as the Government of the United States may consider to be appropriate" to the products of those countries, for such time as those countries remained under Soviet domination or control.

(6) In 1990, the democratically elected governments of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania declared the restoration of their independence from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(7) The Government of the United States established diplomatic relations with Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania on September 2, 1991, and on September 6, 1991, the State Council of the transitional government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics recognized the independence of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, thereby ending the involuntary incorporation of those countries into, and the domination of those countries by, the Soviet Union.

(8) Immediate action should be taken to remove the impediments, imposed in response to the circumstances referred to in paragraph (5), in United States trade laws to the extension of nondiscriminatory treatment (most-favored-nation treatment) to the products of those countries.

(9) As a consequence of establishment of United States diplomatic relations with Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, these independent countries are eligible to receive the benefits of the Generalized System of Preferences provided for in title V of the Trade Act of 1974.

SEC. 102. EXTENSION OF NONDISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT TO THE PRODUCTS OF ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any provision of title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2431 et seq.) or any other provision of law, nondiscriminatory treatment (most-favored-nation treatment) applies to the products of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania.

(b) CONFORMING TARIFF SCHEDULE AMENDMENTS.—General Note 3(b) of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States is amended by striking out "Estonia", "Latvia", and "Lithuania".

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Subsection (a) and the amendments made by subsection (b) apply with respect to goods entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after the 15th day after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 103. TERMINATION OF APPLICATION OF TITLE IV OF THE TRADE ACT OF 1974 TO THE BALTICS.

Title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2431 et seq.) shall cease to apply to Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania effective as of the 15th day after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 104. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS REGARDING PROMPT PROVISION OF GSP TREATMENT TO THE PRODUCTS OF ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA.

It is the sense of the Congress that the President should take prompt action under title V of the Trade Act of 1974 to provide preferential tariff treatment to the products of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania pursuant to the Generalized System of Preferences.

(2) Before the President designates any country as a beneficiary country for purposes of this title, he shall notify the House of Representatives and the Senate of his intention to make such designation, together with the considerations entering into such decision.

(c) LIMITATIONS ON DESIGNATION.—The President shall not designate any country a beneficiary country under this title—

(1) if such country is a Communist country;

(B) has taken steps to repudiate or nullify—

(i) any existing contract or agreement with, or

(ii) any patent, trademark, or other intellectual property of,

a United States citizen or a corporation, partnership, or association, which is 50 percent or more beneficially owned by United States citizens, the effect of which is to nationalize, expropriate, or otherwise seize ownership or control of property so owned, or

(C) has imposed or enforced taxes or other exactions, restrictive maintenance or operational conditions, or other measures with respect to property so owned, the effect of which is to nationalize, expropriate, or otherwise seize ownership or control of such property, unless the President determines that—

(iii) a dispute involving such citizen, corporation, partnership, or association, over compensation for such a seizure has been submitted to arbitration under the provisions of the Convention for the Settlement of Investment Disputes, or in another mutually agreed upon forum, and promptly furnishes a copy of such determination to the Senate and House of Representatives;

(3) if such country fails to act in good faith in recognizing as binding or in enforcing arbitral awards in favor of United States citizens or a corporation, partnership, or association which is 50 percent or more beneficially owned by United States citizens, which have been made by arbitrators appointed for each case or by permanent arbitral bodies to which the parties involved have submitted their dispute;

(4) if such country affords preferential treatment to the products of a developed country, other than the United States, and if such preferential treatment has, or is likely to have, a significant adverse effect on United States commerce, unless the President—

(A) has received assurances satisfactory to him that such preferential treatment will be eliminated or that action will be taken to assure that there will be no such significant adverse effect, and

(B) reports those assurances to the Congress;

(5) if a government-owned entity in such country engages in the broadcast of copyrighted material, including films or television material, belonging to United States copyright owners without their express consent or such country fails to work towards the provision of adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights;

(6) unless such country is a signatory to a treaty, convention, protocol, or other agreement regarding the extradition of United States citizens; and

(7) if such country has not or is not taking steps to afford internationally recognized worker rights (as defined in section 502(a)(4) of the Trade Act of 1974) to workers in the country (including any designated zone in that country).

Paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (5), and (7) shall not prevent the designation of any country as a beneficiary country under this title if the President determines that such designation will be in the national economic or security interest of the United States and reports such determination to the Congress with his reasons therefor.

(d) FACTORS AFFECTING DESIGNATION.—In determining whether to designate any country a beneficiary country under this title, the President shall take into account—

(1) an expression by such country of its desire to be so designated;

(2) the economic conditions in such country, the living standards of its inhabitants, and any other economic factors which he deems appropriate;

(3) the extent to which such country has assured the United States it will provide equitable and reasonable access to the markets and basic commodity resources of such country;

(4) the degree to which such country follows the accepted rules of international trade provided for under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, as well as applicable trade agreements approved under section 2(a) of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979;

(5) the degree to which such country uses export subsidies or imposes export performance requirements or local content requirements which distort international trade;

(6) the degree to which the trade policies of such country as they relate to other beneficiary countries are contributing to the revitalization of the region;

(7) the degree to which such country is undertaking self-help measures to protect its own economic development;

(8) whether or not such country has taken or is taking steps to afford to workers in that country (including any designated zone in that country) internationally recognized worker rights;

(9) the extent to which such country provides under its law adequate and effective means for foreign nationals to secure, exercise, and enforce exclusive rights in intellectual property, including patent, trademark, and copyright rights;

(10) the extent to which such country prohibits its nationals from engaging in the broadcast of copyrighted material, including films or television material, belonging to United States copyright owners without their express consent;

(11) whether such country has met the narcotics cooperation certification criteria set forth in section 481(h)(2)(A) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 for eligibility for United States assistance; and

(12) the extent to which such country is prepared to cooperate with the United States in the administration of the provisions of this Act.

(e) WITHDRAWAL OR SUSPENSION OF DESIGNATION.—(1) The President may—

(A) withdraw or suspend the designation of any country as a beneficiary country, or

(B) withdraw, suspend, or limit the application of duty-free treatment under this title to any article of any country, if, after such designation, the President determines that as a result of changed circumstances such a country should be barred from designation as a beneficiary country.

(2)(A) The President shall publish in the Federal Register notice of the action the President proposes to take under paragraph (1) at least 30 days before taking such action.

(B) The United States Trade Representative shall, within the 30-day period beginning on the date on which the President publishes under subparagraph (A) notice of proposed action—

(i) accept written comments from the public regarding such proposed action,

(ii) hold a public hearing on such proposed action, and

(iii) publish in the Federal Register—

(I) notice of the time and place of such hearing prior to the hearing, and

(f) TRIENNIAL REPORT.—On or before the 3rd, 6th, and 9th anniversaries of the date of the enactment of this title, the President shall submit to the Congress a complete report regarding the operation of this title, including the results of a general review of beneficiary countries based on the considerations described in subsections (c) and (d). In reporting on the considerations described in subsection (d)(11), the President shall report any evidence that the crop eradication and crop substitution efforts of the beneficiary are directly related to the effects of this title.

SEC. 204. ELIGIBLE ARTICLES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Unless otherwise excluded from eligibility by this title, the duty-free treatment provided under this title shall apply to any article which is the growth, product, or manufacture of a beneficiary country if—

(A) that article is imported directly from a beneficiary country into the customs territory of the United States; and

(B) the sum of—

(i) the cost or value of the materials produced in a beneficiary country or 2 or more beneficiary countries under this Act, or a beneficiary country under the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act or 2 or more such countries, plus

(ii) the direct costs of processing operations performed in a beneficiary country or countries (under this Act or the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act), is not less than 35 percent of the appraised value of such article at the time it is entered.

For purposes of determining the percentage referred to in subparagraph (B), the term "beneficiary country" includes the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the United States Virgin Islands. If the cost or value of materials produced in the customs territory of the United States (other than the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico) is included with respect to an article to which this paragraph applies, an amount not to exceed 15 percent of the appraised value of the article at the time it is entered that is attributed to such United States cost or value may be applied toward determining the percentage referred to in subparagraph (B).

(2) The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out subsection (a) including, but not limited to, regulations providing that, in order to be eligible for duty-free treatment under this title, an article must be wholly the growth, product, or manufacture of a beneficiary country, or must be a new or different article of commerce which has been grown, produced, or manufactured in the beneficiary country; but no article or material of a beneficiary country shall be eligible for such treatment by virtue of having merely undergone—

(A) simple combining or packaging operations, or

(B) mere dilution with water or mere dilution with another substance that does not materially alter the characteristics of the article.

(3) As used in this subsection, the phrase "direct costs of processing operations" includes, but is not limited to—

(A) all actual labor costs involved in the growth, production, manufacture, or assembly of the specific merchandise, including fringe benefits, on-the-job training and the cost of engineering, supervisory, quality control, and similar personnel; and

(B) dies, molds, tooling, and depreciation on machinery and equipment which are allocable to the specific merchandise.

Such phrase does not include costs which are not directly attributable to the merchandise concerned or are not costs of manufacturing the product, such as (i) profit, and (ii) general expense of doing business which are either not allocable to the specific merchandise or are not related to the growth, production, manufacture, or assembly of the merchandise, such as administrative salaries, casualty and liability insurance, advertising, interest, and salesmen's salaries, commissions or expenses.

(4) If the President, pursuant to section 223 of the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Expansion Act of 1990, considers that the implementation of revised rules of origin for products of beneficiary countries designated under the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (19 U.S.C. 2701 et seq.) would be appropriate, the President may include similarly revised rules of origin for products of beneficiary countries designated under this title in any suggested legislation transmitted to the Congress that contains such rules of origin for products of beneficiary countries under the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act.

(b) EXCEPTIONS TO DUTY-FREE TREATMENT.—The duty-free treatment provided under this title shall not apply to—

(c) DUTY REDUCTIONS FOR CERTAIN GOODS.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the President shall proclaim reductions in the rates of duty on handbags, luggage, flat goods, work gloves, and leather wearing apparel that—

(A) are the product of any beneficiary country; and

(B) were not designated on August 5, 1983, as eligible articles for purposes of the generalized system of preferences under title V of the Trade Act of 1974.

(2) The reduction required under paragraph (1) in the rate of duty on any article shall—

(A) result in a rate that is equal to 80 percent of the rate of duty that applies to the article on December 31, 1991, except that, subject to the limitations in paragraph (3), the reduction may not exceed 2.5 percent ad valorem; and

(B) be implemented in 5 equal annual stages with the first 1/5 of the aggregate reduction in the rate of duty being applied to entries, or withdrawals from warehouse for consumption, of the article on or after January 1, 1992.

(3) The reduction required under this subsection with respect to the rate of duty on any article is in addition to any reduction in the rate of duty on that article that may be proclaimed by the President as being required or appropriate to carry out any trade agreement entered into under the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations; except that if the reduction so proclaimed—

(A) is less than 1.5 percent ad valorem, the aggregate of such proclaimed reduction and the reduction under this subsection may not exceed 3.5 percent ad valorem, or

(B) is 1.5 percent ad valorem or greater, the aggregate of such proclaimed reduction and the reduction under this subsection may not exceed the proclaimed reduction plus 1 percent ad valorem.

(d) SUSPENSION OF DUTY-FREE TREATMENT.—(1) The President may by proclamation suspend the duty-free treatment provided by this title with respect to any eligible article and may proclaim a duty rate for such article if such action is proclaimed under chapter 1 of title II of the Trade Act of 1974 or section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962.

(2) In any report by the United States International Trade Commission to the President under section 202(f) of the Trade Act of 1974 regarding any article for which duty-free treatment has been proclaimed by the President pursuant to this title, the Commission shall state whether and to what extent its findings and recommendations apply to such article when imported from beneficiary countries.

(3) For purposes of section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974, the suspension of the duty-free treatment provided by this title shall be treated as an increase in duty.

(4) No proclamation providing solely for a suspension referred to in paragraph (3) of this subsection with respect to any article shall be taken under section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974 unless the United States International Trade Commission, in addition to making an affirmative determination with respect to such article under section 202(b) of the Trade Act of 1974, determines in the course of its investigation under such section that the serious injury (or threat thereof) substantially caused by imports to the domestic industry producing a like or directly competitive article results from the duty-free treatment provided by this title.

(5)(A) Any action taken under section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974 that is in effect when duty-free treatment is proclaimed under section 202 of this title shall remain in effect until modified or terminated.

(B) If any article is subject to any such action at the time duty-free treatment is proclaimed under section 202 of this title, the President may reduce or terminate the application of such action to the importation of such article from beneficiary countries prior to the otherwise scheduled date on which such reduction or termination would occur pursuant to the criteria and procedures of section 204 of the Trade Act of 1974.

(e) EMERGENCY RELIEF WITH RESPECT TO PERISHABLE PRODUCTS.—(1) If a petition is filed with the United States International Trade Commission pursuant to the provisions of section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 regarding a perishable product and alleging injury from imports from beneficiary countries, then the petition may also be filed with the Secretary of Agriculture with a request that emergency relief be granted pursuant to paragraph (3) of this subsection with respect to such article.

(2) Within 14 days after the filing of a petition under paragraph (1) of this subsection—

(A) if the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that a perishable product from a beneficiary country is being imported into the United States in such increased quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury, or the threat thereof, to the domestic industry producing a perishable product like or directly competitive with the imported product and that emergency action is warranted, he shall advise the President and recommend that the President take emergency action; or

(B) the Secretary of Agriculture shall publish a notice of his determination not to recommend the imposition of emergency action and so advise the petitioner.

(3) Within 7 days after the President receives a recommendation from the Secretary of Agriculture to take emergency action pursuant to paragraph (2) of this subsection, he shall issue a proclamation withdrawing the duty-free treatment provided by this title or publish a notice of his determination not to take emergency action.

(4) The emergency action provided by paragraph (3) of this subsection shall cease to apply—

(A) upon the taking of action under section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974,

(B) on the day a determination by the President not to take action under section 203(b)(2) of such Act becomes final,

(C) in the event of a report of the United States International Trade Commission containing a negative finding, on the day of the Commission's report is submitted to the President, or

(D) whenever the President determines that because of changed circumstances such relief is no longer warranted.

(5) For purposes of this subsection, the term "perishable product" means—

(A) live plants and fresh cut flowers provided for in chapter 6 of the HTS;

(B) fresh or chilled vegetables provided for in headings 0701 through 0709 (except subheading 0709.52.00) and heading 0714 of the HTS;

(4) to require Presidential reports on efforts that threaten United States interests or regional stability by Iran, Iraq, Syria, Libya, and others to acquire the materials and technology to develop, produce, stockpile, deliver, transfer, or use chemical or biological weapons.

SEC. 303. MULTILATERAL EFFORTS.

(3) to implement paragraph (2) by proposing steps complementary to, and not mutually exclusive of, existing multilateral efforts seeking a verifiable ban on chemical weapons, such as the establishment of—

TERMINATION OF APPLICATION OF TITLE IV OF THE TRADE ACT OF 1974
TO CZECHOSLOVAKIA AND HUNGARY

(Section 2 of House bill; section 2 of House bill as amended by Senate; section 2 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

Title IV of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended by the Customs and Trade Act of 1990, sets forth three requirements relating to freedom of emigration which must be met, or waived by the President, in order for the President to grant nondiscriminatory, most-favored-nation (MFN) status to a nonmarket economy country. Title IV also requires that a trade agreement providing MFN status remain in force between the United States and the nonmarket economy country receiving MFN status and sets forth minimum provisions which must be included in such an agreement.

Presidential waivers and reports under Title IV—and thus a country's MFN status—are subject to disapproval by Congress. If the President determines that a country is in full compliance with the Jackson-Vanik freedom of emigration requirements, section 402(b) requires that he submit a report to the Congress by June 30 and December 31 of each year that such country receives MFN treatment, describing the nature of the country's emigration laws and policies. The country's MFN status may be revoked, if a joint resolution disapproving the December 31 compliance report is enacted into law within 90 legislative days of the delivery of the report to Congress. If such a resolution is enacted, the country's MFN status is rescinded, effective 60 calendar days after enactment.

Annual Presidential recommendations under section 402(d) for a 12-month extension of authority to waive Jackson-Vanik freedom of emigration requirements (either generally or for specific countries) are subject to a joint resolution of disapproval passed by the Congress within 60 calendar days after expiration of the previous waiver extension. An additional 15 legislative days, following the 60 calendar day period for initial passage, is available for consideration of any veto message. If such a resolution is enacted, the country's MFN status is rescinded, effective 60 calendar days after enactment.

House Bill

Section 2 provides for the termination of application of Title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 to Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Subsection (a) authorizes the President to determine that such title should no longer apply to Hungary or Czechoslovakia, or to both; and after making such a determination, proclaim the extension of nondiscriminatory, MFN treatment to the products of that country. Subsection (b) provides that after the extension under subsection (a) of MFN treatment to the products of a country, Title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 shall cease to apply to that country.

AMENDMENTS TO THE EMERGENCY UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION ACT OF 1991

(Section 3 of House bill as amended by Senate; section 3 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

All States are eligible to provide Emergency Unemployment Compensation (EUC) benefits to unemployed workers who have exhausted their unemployment benefits under existing programs. These benefits are available between November 17, 1991, and July 4, 1992.

There are three levels of weeks of eligibility for EUC benefits. The number of weeks of benefits payable to an unemployed worker in a particular State is determined by combinations of State adjusted insured unemployment rates (AIURs), exhaustion rates (ERs), and total unemployment rates (TURs). All rates are rounded to the nearest tenth of a percentage point. For example, 2.95 percent would be rounded to 3.0 percent.

The AIUR for a State is the insured unemployment rate for a given month plus the number of workers who have exhausted their regular State benefits in the last three months added to the numerator.

The ER is the percentage obtained by dividing the average monthly number of workers who have exhausted their regular State benefits during the last 12 months by the average monthly number of individuals filing initial claims for regular State benefits during the last 12-month period ending 6 months earlier. (For the reachback and initial benefit periods an eight-month average ending with September was used.)

The TUR is the percentage obtained from the ratio of all unemployed workers to all workers in the labor force in that State during the last six months for which data are published. States can receive 6, 13, or 20 weeks as follows:

All States get at least 6 weeks.

States with AIURs of at least 4 percent or AIURs of at least 2.5 percent and exhaustion rates of at least 29 percent get at least 13 weeks.

States with AIURs of at least 5 percent or TURs of at least 9 percent get 20 weeks.

Once a State has "triggerged on" for a 6, 13, or 20 week period of EUC benefits, the State remains triggered on that tier for at least 13 weeks, even if it drops to a lower tier during that period. Alternatively, if a State's moves to a higher tier during that period, workers in that State qualify for the additional benefits.

Also, once an unemployed worker becomes eligible for 6, 13, or 20 weeks of EUC benefits, the worker is paid for all weeks to which he is entitled, even if the State drops to a lower tier or the program expires before the worker has received the full number of weeks of benefits.

Unemployed workers who have exhausted their benefits under the regular unemployment program between March 1 and November 16 are eligible to receive EUC benefits in States which qualify as 13- or 20-week States or which had AIURs of at least 3 percent. Qualifying States are eligible for a minimum of 6 weeks of "reach-back" benefits, however, States on the second and third tiers are eligible to pay for 13 or 20 weeks, respectively.

House Bill

No provision.

Senate Amendment

The Senate amendment replaces the three tier system of 20, 13, and 6 weeks of emergency unemployment compensation with a two tier system of 20 and 13 weeks. The 9 States and Puerto Rico with total unemployment rates of at least 9 percent or adjusted insured unemployment rates of at least 5 percent still would receive 20 weeks of benefits. The other 41 States and the District of Columbia and Virgin Islands would receive 13 weeks of benefits. In addition, reachback coverage would be added for all States so that the 18 States and the Virgin Islands that do not currently receive these benefits would become eligible to provide them. Finally, the expiration date of the program would change from July 4, 1992, to June 13, 1992.

ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA

(Section 102 of House amendment; section 102 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

The law governing U.S. trade relations with nonmarket economy countries is Title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 (the so-called Jackson-Vanik amendment), as amended by the Customs and Trade Act of 1990. That title requires the President to deny MFN status to those nonmarket economy countries which did not receive such status on the date of enactment. Because Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania on the date of enactment were under the forcible control of the Soviet Union, this prohibition applied to those states.

Title IV also authorizes the President to extend MFN status to a nonmarket economy country, if that country meets three requirements relating to the freedom of emigration of its citizens. Alternatively, the President may waive those requirements and extend MFN status on an annual basis to a nonmarket economy country, subject to disapproval by Congress. Finally, Title IV requires that a trade agreement providing MFN status remain in force between the United States and the nonmarket economy country receiving MFN status; and it sets forth minimum provisions which must be included in such an agreement.

General Note 3(b) of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States includes Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania on the list of countries subject to Column 2 (non-MFN) rates of duty.

House Amendment

Section 102 applies nondiscriminatory, MFN treatment to the products of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, notwithstanding Title IV or any other provision of law. It amends General Note 3(b) to remove these three countries from the application of Column 2 (non-MFN) rates of duty.

These provisions apply with respect to goods imported on or after the 15th day after the date of enactment of the Act.

SENSE OF THE CONGRESS REGARDING PROMPT PROVISION OF GSP
TREATMENT TO THE PRODUCTS OF ESTONIA, LATVIA, AND LITHUANIA

(Section 104 of House amendment; section 104 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

Title V of the Trade Act of 1974 authorizes the President to provide duty-free, Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) treatment to any eligible article from designated beneficiary developing countries, subject to certain conditions and limitations. Under Section 502, the President is prohibited from designating as beneficiary developing countries certain specified developed countries, including the Soviet Union; communist countries unless certain criteria are satisfied; and countries which do not meet other specified criteria. Because Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania are now independent of the Soviet Union, they are eligible for GSP benefits, subject to the criteria of Title V.

BENEFICIARY COUNTRY

(Section 203 of House amendment.)

Present Law

No provision. The designation authority and criteria that apply under section 212 (b) and (c) of the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA) to beneficiary countries under the Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI) program, are nearly identical to the provisions of section 203. Section 212 of the CBERA has similar withdrawal and suspension authorities and notification and reporting requirements with respect to CBI beneficiary countries.

House Amendment

Section 203 authorizes the President to consider only Bolivia, Ecuador, Colombia, and Peru for designation as beneficiary countries under the ATPA. Before designating any country, the President must notify the Congress of his intention to make the designation, together with the considerations entering into the decision. Designation by the President of a country as a beneficiary country is subject to 7 specific conditions, most of which are subject to waiver if he determines that designation of the country will be in the national economic or security interest of the United States and reports that determination and the reasons therefor to the Congress. The President must also take 12 other specific factors into account in designating any beneficiary country.

The President may withdraw or suspend beneficiary country status or duty-free treatment on any article of any beneficiary country if he determines after designation that the country should be barred from designation because of changed circumstances. The President must submit to the Congress every 3 years a complete report on the operation of the ATPA.

No provision.

ELIGIBLE ARTICLES

(Section 204 of House amendment.)

Present Law

Imports from the Andean countries are subject to normal customs provisions for determining origin, except that articles eligible for duty-free treatment under the GSP program are subject to the rules-of-origin specified under section 503 of the Trade Act of 1974. The rule-of-origin requirements for duty-free treatment under the ATPA are nearly identical to the requirements under section 213(a) of the CBERA for determining origin under the CBI program.

Section 223 of the CBERA provides that if the President considers that implementation of revised rules of origin for products of CBI beneficiary countries would be appropriate, he shall transmit such legislation to the Congress, after taking into account a report and recommendations of the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) and advice from various sources.

The product exclusions from eligibility for duty-free treatment and the duty reductions on imports of certain leather products under the CBI program are identical to the ATPA, except that rum is eligible for duty-free treatment under the CBERA.

Additional U.S. Notes 2, 3, and 4 of Chapter 17 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS) authorize the imposition of duties or quotas on imports of sugars, syrups, and molasses. Presidential Proclamation 6179, signed on September 13, 1990, provided for the establishment of tariff-rate quotas on sugar imports beginning on October 1, 1990, to replace the system of absolute quotas. Under the tariff-rate quota system, the Secretary of Agriculture announces a quantity of sugar that will be subject to current tariff rates (the "lower tier" tariff rate), which is then allocated among country suppliers. Any additional quantities of sugar above these allocated amounts are subject to a tariff rate of 16 cents per pound, raw value (the "upper tier" tariff rate). GSP and CBI beneficiary countries are eligible to receive duty-free treatment on the quantities of sugar permitted entry at the lower tier tariff rate. All four Andean countries currently have sugar import allocations subject to GSP duty-free treatment.

The CBI program contains identical authorities for granting import relief and taking emergency action on agricultural perishable products.

House Amendment

Section 204 requires duty-free treatment on any article, not otherwise excluded from eligibility, which is the growth, product, or manufacture of a beneficiary country if (1) that article is imported directly from a beneficiary country into the U.S. customs territory; and (2) the sum of (a) the cost or value of materials produced in one or more Andean beneficiary countries or one or more CBI beneficiary countries, plus (b) the direct costs of processing operations performed in one or more Andean or CBI beneficiary countries is not less than 35 percent of the appraised value of the article (which may include Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands content and up to 15 percent of the value of U.S. content). Section 204 also specifies requirements which the Secretary of the Treasury must prescribe in regulations. The President may include revised rules of origin for duty-free treatment under the ATPA similar to revised rules for CBI duty-free treatment in any suggested legislation submitted to the Congress pursuant to section 223 of the CBERA.

Section 204 excludes from eligibility for duty-free treatment: (1) Textiles and apparel articles, which are subject to textile agreements; (2) footwear ineligible for GSP duty-free treatment; (3) canned tuna; (4) petroleum or petroleum products; (5) certain watches and watch parts; (6) handbags, luggage, flat goods, work gloves, and leather wearing apparel ineligible for GSP duty-free treatment, which are subject to 20 percent duty reductions not to exceed 2.5 percent ad valorem implemented over 5 years; (7) sugars, syrups, and molasses subject to over-quota rates of duty; and (8) rum.

The President may suspend duty-free treatment on any eligible article under import relief or national security authorities. In any report to the President on an import relief investigation involving a duty-free article under the ATPA, the ITC must state whether and to what extent its injury findings and remedy recommendations apply to imports from beneficiary countries. Under emergency relief provisions for imports of perishable agricultural products, within 7 days after receiving a recommendation from the Secretary of Agriculture (within 14 days after the filing of a petition) that emergency action is warranted, the President must withdraw duty-free treatment or determine not to take emergency action. No proclamation under the ATPA shall affect fees imposed pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933.

RELATED AMENDMENTS

Note 4 and tariff items under subchapter IV of chapter 98 of the HTS provide a duty-free tourist allowance to returning U.S. residents arriving directly or indirectly from foreign countries (including Andean countries) of $400, or $600 in the case of CBI beneficiary countries. U.S. residents returning from foreign countries may bring in not more than one liter of alcoholic beverages duty-free and excise-tax free; residents returning from CBI beneficiary countries may enter one additional liter duty-free if produced in a CBI beneficiary country.

General Note 3(a)(iv) of the HTS provides that goods imported from U.S. insular possessions shall receive no less favorable duty treatment than accorded to eligible articles imported from beneficiary countries under the GSP or CBI programs.

House Amendment

Section 205 increases the duty-free tourist allowances for U.S. residents returning directly or indirectly from Andean beneficiary countries from $400 to $600 and for one additional liter of alcoholic beverages if produced in an Andean country.

SANCTIONS AGAINST CERTAIN FOREIGN PERSONS

(Section 305 of House amendment; section 305 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

Title V of Public Law 102-138 directs the President to impose sanctions on foreign persons who have knowingly and materially contributed to efforts by certain countries, projects, or entities to use, develop, produce, stockpile, or acquire chemical or biological weapons. It urges the President to undertake consultation with the country of jurisdiction in order to secure corrective action. It permits the President to delay imposition of sanctions against a foreign person for up to 90 days to pursue consultations and corrective action. It requires the President to report within 90 days after his determination on the status of the consultations and permits him to delay the imposition of sanctions for an additional 90 days if the President determines and certifies to Congress that the government is pursuing corrective actions. Upon making a determination that a foreign person has engaged in the prohibited activities, the President is required to impose government procurement sanctions against that person for at least 12 months, after which the sanctions may be terminated if the President determines and certifies that the violations have ceased. Certain exceptions also are provided (e.g., for certain defense articles and services or existing contracts). This section also provides for a Presidential waiver after 12 months, based on the President's determination that such a waiver is important to the national security interests of the United States.

SANCTIONS AGAINST USE OF CHEMICAL OR BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS

(Section 307 of House amendment; section 307 of conference agreement.)

Present Law

Title V of Public Law 102-138 applies to any government which the President determines has used, or is making substantial preparation to use, chemical or biological weapons in violation of international law or against its own nationals. It establishes a two-tier sanctions regime. Once a determination is made, the President shall impose immediately the specified U.S. Government-associated sanctions (foreign assistance, arms sales, arms sales financing, government credit or financing, exports of national security-sensitive goods and technology). If, after 3 months, the President is not able to certify to Congress that the violation has ceased, that the government in question has provided assurances about no further use, and that the government is willing to allow on-site inspections by international observers, then the President shall impose three out of five possible sanctions (multilateral development bank assistance, bank loans, further export restrictions, diplomatic relations, landing rights). The President may remove the country sanctions after 12 months if he determines and can certify these same changes in conduct by the government in question.

The Presidential waiver authority in present law allows the President to waive the imposition of sanctions if he determines and certifies to Congress that it is essential to the national security interests of the United States; and if the President notifies the Committee on Foreign Relations in the Senate and the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the House of Representatives of his determination and certification at least 15 days before the waiver takes effect, in accordance with foreign aid reprogramming procedures. The President also must report on the rationale for, and circumstances of, his waiver.

The President also may waive the sanctions if he determines and certifies to the Congress that there has been a fundamental change in the leadership and policies of the government of the sanctioned country, and if the President notifies the Congress at least 20 days before the waiver takes effect.

Present law also provides contract sanctity for contracts and agreements entered into before the date on which the President imposes sanctions unless such contract sanctity would assist the country in using chemical or biological weapons in violation of international law.

House Amendment

The landing rights sanction in section 307 specifies the steps to be taken by the Secretary of Transportation in implementing this sanction and providing for emergency procedures.

With respect to import sanctions, the President must notify the Committee on Finance of the Senate and the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, rather than the Committees on Foreign Relations and Foreign Affairs, of his determination and certification at least 15 days before the waiver takes effect. The notification requirement with respect to sanctions other than import sanctions is unchanged.
