Hello all—

Just an FYI. A report came in from FLJM this morning. They are reporting that they accepted a kidney from SCOP but the airline misplaced the kidney and FLJM ultimately declined to CIT.

I took a look in DonorNet, but the matches are still open as this just happened yesterday. I am unsure at this time if the kidney has been discarded or not.

*There is NO indication on error, etc. on behalf of FLJM...*but wanted you all to know since there has been so much going on in Florida.

Please let me know if you have any questions. We can regroup Monday if needed.
