H.R. 6642 (Bicycle Parts)

Amdt. No.	Bill page	Description
1-4	1	Clerical amendinents reflecting the fact that new sections were added to the Senate bill.
5	2-3	Moving expenses.—Because of problems involved, since enactment of the 1969 Tax Reform Act the Internal Revenue Service has, by administrative determination, provided a moratorium with respect to the application of the new moving expense rules to members of the armed services. The most recent extension of the IRS moratorium expired at the end of 1973. The Senate bill extends this moratorium one more year, or until Jan. 1, 1975. In the meanwhile a staff study is to be made of possible legislative solutions to the problems.

H.R. 7780 (Spun Silk Yarn)

Amdt. No.	Bill page	Description
1-2	1-2	Spun silk yarn.—The House bill continues the suspension of duty on certain classifications of yarns of silk from Nov. 7, 1973, until Nov. 7, 1975. The Senate amendment instead makes the suspension of duty effective upon enactment, but allows importers 60 days to file for a refund of duties paid on entries made between November 7, 1973 and the date of enactment.
3	2	Trona.—Deals with the treatment processes which are treated as mining in computing the percentage depletion allowance for trona. The amendment provides that the decarbonation of trona is to be treated as an ordinary treatment process. The effect of this is to continue, as provided prior to 1971, to allow percentage depletion on trona based on the value of soda ash extracted from it.
4	2-3	Excise tax on wagers.—Eliminates the Federal excise tax on wagers placed with licensed persons in a State which imposes a State tax on such wagers or their proceeds. (At present this change would only effect wagers made with State-licensed wagering enterprises in Nevada.) Those placing wagers with unlicensed persons would remain subject to the Federal excise tax on wagers. (Cannon floor amendment adopted by voice vote.)

DISC export transactions.—Specifies that a financing corporation is not to be prevented from qualifying as a DISC if it holds accounts receivable or evidences of indebtedness which arise by reason of the export-related transactions of a related DISC. The present tax law requires that at least 95 percent of a corporation's assets be export-related in order to qualify as a DISC. These export-related assets include accounts receivable or evidences of indebtedness which arise in connection with the export transactions of the corporation. Thus presently a corporation with whom the export transaction arose can retain these accounts receivable or evidences of indebtedness as its only assets and continue to qualify as a DISC. However, if these accounts receivable or evidences of indebtedness are transferred to another corporation, which retains these as its only assets, this transferee corporation cannot presently qualify as a DISC. The amendment would allow the transferee financing corporation to hold these accounts receivable or evidences of indebtedness and qualify as a DISC if they arise by reason of the export-related transactions (whether as principal or agent) of a related DISC.

Housing rehabilitation.—Sec. 167(k) of the Internal Revenue Code, adopted as part of the Tax Reform Act of 1969, permits taxpayers to depreciate rehabilitation expenditures for low- and moderate-income rental housing over a period of 60 months. The provision only applies to expenditures made prior to Jan. 1, 1975. This provision is applicable only where at least $3,000 per unit is spent for rehabilitation over a 2-year period and no more than $15,000 per unit qualifies for this special treatment. The amendment would extend this special tax treatment for rehabilitation expenditures to those made prior to Jan. 1, 1978. (Javits floor amendment adopted by voice vote.)

H.R. 11452 (Feathers and Downs)

Amdt. No.	Bill page	Description
1-2	2	Feathers and downs.—Suspends until Dec. 31, 1977 (rather than until Dec. 31, 1979, as in the House bill) the duty-free treatment of certain feathers and downs.
3-4	2	Trade agreements authority.—Deletes the provision in the House bill which would authorize the President, in the exercise of his trade agreements authority, to grant a permanent concession on the duty-free status for feathers provided for in the bill if such concession were granted during the statutory suspension of the duty.
5	2-3	Tax treatment of certain dividend income of affiliated life insurance companies.—Under present law life insurance companies are excluded from filing a consolidated return with their affiliates even though the requisite stock ownership exists, because the unique method of taxing such companies would make it difficult from an accounting standpoint to consolidate their income with their affiliates which are not life insurance companies. Present law also exempts life insurance companies, as well as other corporations (such as banks) from personal holding company status, even though they receive the requisite amount of passive income, because of the nature of their business activities. However, dividends received from a life insurance company by members of an affiliated group are treated as personal holding company income (such dividends would not be so treated if the life insurance company were permitted to file a consolidated return with the group). The Senate amendment treats the dividends received by members of an affiliated group from a life insurance subsidiary in the same manner as they would be treated if the life insurance company were permitted to file a consolidated return. It provides that the dividends received by members of an affiliated group from
6	3, 5	a life insurance subsidiary will not be treated as personal holding company income. Family farms.—Excludes the first $200,000 in the value of the family farm from the taxable estates of those farmers who have managed their own farms during their lives and have willed them to relatives who plan to carry on this tradition. In order to qualify for the exemption, a decedent must have owned a farm for at least 5 years and must have exercised substantial management and control over the farm before he died. Those who inherit must continue to

In the event that a farm is willed to several children, all inheritors are covered by the amendment if one of them meets the residency and management qualifications. (Bayh floor amendment adopted by voice vote.)
7	5-6	Coordination of Federal employee health program with Medicare.—Defers for 1 year (until Jan. 1, 1976) the requirement in present law that no payment may be made under Medicare for any service to an individual enrolled in the Federal Employees Health Program unless the Secretary finds that the Federal Employee Health Plan has provision for proper coordination with Medicare. (Curtis floor amendment adopted by voice vote.)

H.R. 11830 (Synthetic Rutile)

Amdt. No.	Bill page	Description
1	2-3	State lotteries.—Revises the exemption from the excise tax on wagers for State run lotteries, to take account of changes in the conduct of State lotteries. Under existing law, an excise tax of 10 percent is imposed on all wagers, with certain exceptions, one of which is for lotteries conducted by a State, or the instrumentality of the State, if the eventual winner of the lottery is determined by a horse race. This exemption was enacted in 1965 to exempt the New Hampshire State Lottery, which was the first State lottery, from the excise tax on wagers. Since that time, however, other States have inaugurated lotteries, but the winners in most of these lotteries are determined on a basis other than by a horse race. The amendment deletes the requirement that the winner be chosen by a horse race to make the exemption apply to all State-conducted lotteries. In addition, the committee provision specifies that an exemption from the $250 occupational tax on vending machines is to be provided for lottery tickets dispensed by machine.

2-4 Charitable remainder trusts.—Provides for an extension of time to allow charitable remainder trusts to conform to the requirements provided in the Tax Reform Act for purposes of an estate tax deduction. As a result of the 1969 Act, charitable remainder trusts must meet contain results.

tension of time to allow charitable remainder trusts to conform to the requirements provided in the Tax Reform Act for purposes of an estate tax deduction. As a result of the 1969 Act, charitable remainder trusts must meet certain requirements in order for an estate tax deduction to be allowed for the transfer of a remainder interest to charity. In general, these requirements apply in the case of a decedent dying after Dec. 31, 1969. Present transitional rules allow a trust created after July 31, 1969, to qualify if the governing instrument of the trust is amended to meet these new requirements by Dec. 31, 1972. The Senate amendment extends the application of these transitional rules to Dec. 31, 1975.

Educational expenses for members of armed services.— The exclusion from gross income for certain amounts received as a scholarship at an éducational institution or as a fellowship grant generally does not apply if the amounts received represent compensation for past, present, or future employment services. The Internal Revenue Service has notified the Department of Defense in response to its request for a ruling that certain amounts received by students toward their educational expenses while participating in the recently instituted Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program are not excludable from their gross income because of the individual's commitment to future service with the Armed Forces. Thus, under this position the individuals are subject to tax on the amounts received. The Senate amendment provides that the exclusion for scholarship and fellowship grants is to apply to payments made by the Government for the tuition and certain other educational expenses of a member of the uniformed services attending an educational institution under the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program (or substantially similar programs) until Jan. 1, 1976, pending a review by the staff of the effect of application of provision. (Bennett floor amendment adopted by voice vote.) [Note: Section 5 of the Senate amendment, excluding from income that portion of a student loan that has been forgiven,

3	6-7	Lease guaranty insurance and insurance of State and local obligations.—Permits insurance companies writing lease guarantee insurance and insurance guaranteeing the debt service of municipal bond issues to deduct additions to contingency reserves in accordance with the current treatment of similar additions for mortgage guarantee insurance under sec. 832(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The amendment would also allow a 20-year loss carryback in the case of the tax-exempt State and local obligations rather than 10-year net operating loss carryback presently available for mortgage guaranty insurance and which would be applicable under this amendment for lease guaranty insurance. The deduction for additions to the special contingency reserve permitted under this amendment produces a "tax benefit" which is required to be invested in noninterest bearing Federal tax-and-loss bonds. This provides the United States with unrestricted use of these funds. The bonds cannot be redecimed until the reserves are restored to income, which must occur, at the
.1	7	latest, within 10 years. (Bennett floor amend- ment adopted by voice vote.) Interest, forfeiture, on aremature, withdrawals—

Interest forfeiture on premature withdrawals.— Under present law as interpreted by Revenue Ruling 73–511 banks, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions are required to annually report the gross amount of interest paid or accrued with respect to each time savings account or deposit, and individual taxpayers must include such payments or accruals in determining their gross income annually. If an individual prematurely withdraws his funds in such accounts, a substantial penalty is imposed and that individual is required to förfeit part of the interest earned. Where an individual does not itemize his deductions in determining his taxable income, he will not be able to claim a deduction for the interest forfeited even though the interest received has been included in income The Senate amendment would authorize a deduction for such interest forfeitures from gross income in calculating adjusted gross income.

Amdt. No.	Bill page	Description
1	2-3	Adjustment of basis of property received from a subsidiary in certain liquidations.—Permits State Lines, Inc., which acquired and liquidated a subsidiary (States Steamship Company) prior to July 1, 1957, to deduct a loss occasioned by a contingent liability created as a result of a reversal of a U.S. Court of Appeals decision. In such circumstances, the taxpayer who had acquired the assets of a liquidated corporation would be permitted to deduct the unanticipated loss in the year incurred in the same fashion as the liquidated corporation would have been permitted to had it remained in existence.

H.R. 13631 (Horses)

Amdt, No.	Bill page	. Description
1	2-3	Judicial review of decisions of Provider Reimbursement Review Board.—Present law grants judicial review to providers of Medicare services only when the Secretary of HEW on his own motion reverses or modifies adversely to the provider a decision of the Provider Reimbursement Review Board. The amendment gives providers the option of judicial review of any board decision or subsequent affirmations, modification, or reversal by the Secretary. In addition, when a provider seeks judicial review the amount in controversy shall be subject to annual interest beginning 6 months after the intermediary has made a final determination or within 6 months after final determination would have been made had it been on a timely basis.
